Benson to Ask Congress for Soil Bank Plan

Five Point Farm Program Approved By Special Advisors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson will ask Congress to approve a multi-million dollar "soil bank" as part of a 1956 program to give farmers a bigger share of the nation's prosperity.

The farm program also may include a plan limiting the size of federal price support payments to individual farmers.

Benson announced the program Tuesday after it was approved by his special farm advisory commission. He said GOP congressional leaders with whom he has discussed the program received it very favorably.

He said the commission, which advises the administration on farm policy, approved five "basic proposals." It also favored the limiting of price support payments to individual farmers, but Benson said he will make a "further study" of the proposal before including it in his 1956 program.

Favor Cut-Off Point

High administration officials are said to favor some cut-off which would prevent big farm operators from collecting $100,000 a year or more from the Treasury in price support payments.

The five proposals which Benson said will be submitted at the next session of Congress are:

1. The "soil bank" plan under which farmers would be paid for diverting land planted in surplus crops to grass and trees. Benson said the program, which would cost an estimated 400 million dollars the first year, would combine "immediate aid for farmers with a long-range conservation goal to benefit all citizens." Participation would be voluntary.

2. Liberalized farm credit.

More Food Gifts

3. New ways of disposing of surplus crops including more donations of surplus foods to low-income groups at home and abroad. This plan also provides for expanded foreign marketing and barter programs, heavier spending for surplus perishable products, and stepped-up use of surpluses in school lunch-rooms and the Armed Forces.

4. New commodity programs. This would include relaxing controls on corn and wheat which is fed on the farms where it is grown. It envisions reducing cotton surpluses by raising the grade on which price supports are based.

5. Increased spending for research aimed at developing new markets, new crops, and new uses for old crops.

Benson also said the commission recommended a new corn program that would give farmers "greater freedom" by relaxing acreage controls. He said the corn program would be sent to Congress if the President approves it.

Coal Miner 'Digs' $32,000 on Television Quiz

NEW YORK (AP)—Stanley Skeens, who has worked for a West Virginia coal mine since 1949, starts digging toward daylight today.

Skeens, an expert on the Bible, walked away from CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Question" Tuesday night with $32,000 in his pocket. He indicated that his winnings might change his way of life.

"I kind of hope now that some time in the future I can go into a little business," said Skeens. "Maybe a garage or a filling station."

Skeens, of Danville, W. Va., figured he might be able to salvage "about $18,000" after taxes. He's married and has one 5-year-old son.

Skeens, an ordained minister in the Free Will Baptist Church, built up his stake over a five-week period on the game show. He was offered a chance to double his winnings Tuesday night, but decided to quit.

Another contestant, Roscoe Wright, 54, Jamaica, N. Y., ran his winnings to $16,000 in the category, "poetry." Wright, a Negro, has worked as a letter carrier for 32 years.

Expect Farm Bureau to Approve New Plan to Use Up Surpluses

CHICAGO (AP)—A plan to stop piling up farm surpluses and start using them up may emerge as the American Farm Bureau Federation's major answer to falling farm prices.

The proposal has been gaining favor at the Farm Bureau's convention here and the key resolutions committee is expected to pass on it tonight.

Boy Critically Hurt in Crash Fatal to Four

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP)—A 3-year-old boy injured in a collision with a train which killed his parents, a sister and a brother, remained in a critical condition today.

Michael Webb was riding with his father, Raymond, 26; his mother, Phyllis, 28; Sharon Kay, 4, and Richard, 1, when their truck was rammed Tuesday on an abandoned crossing by the train. Mrs. Webb was expecting another child in two months.

Two other Webb children, Dennis, 7, and Barbara, 5, were in school at the time.

The impact of the passenger train, which was slowing for a stop at a station, pinned Webb in the wreckage and threw the mother and the children out of the truck. Three teen-agers who witnessed the accident told Sheriff Howard Cheatham that Webb was driving south, parallel to the tracks, and cut directly in front of the south-bound train.

Cheatham planned to take statements from two crew-members of the train—engineer Henry Horner and conductor Gib Entsminger, both of Carbondale. The train, an Illinois Central passenger train, was bound from St. Louis to Carbondale when the accident occurred about noon Tuesday.

Cheatham said an inquest will be held, but set no date.

In addition to her critically injured children, Mrs. Webb was survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Wolf, Murphysboro. This was the second tragedy in southern Illinois within a week. Earlier a fire at Benton claimed the lives of a mother and her five children.

The headquarters spokesman said no candidates or potential candidates will be called before the committee at the Monday meeting.

One Indictment for Murder in Wabash County; One Rejected

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (AP)—The Wabash county grand jury Tuesday indicted Lester E. Ayers, 47, of St. Francisville for murder in the slaying of policeman Aaron Youngman Dec. 2.

Ayers is scheduled to be arraigned in circuit court Dec. 21 according to State's Attorney Joel W. Townsend.

The grand jury refused to indict Charles Hayes, 51, of Mount Carmel for the killing of Elvis (Spud) Cropper in a fight Nov. 29. Hayes next will be taken before Judge Eugene White in Wabash county court for a hearing on a probation violation.

Surpluses in Billions
But the new attack on the nation's 10 billion dollars worth of farm surpluses is new and it is not known how Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson and other administration leaders will take to it.

The plan is built around the soil bank program, which is designed to persuade farmers to plant their fields with soil-building crops rather than "cash crops" which are already creating surpluses.

Under the new twist, farmers who need the crops they no longer grow would be allowed to get them cheaply by dipping into the surplus stocks now held in government storage.

A proponent of the plan gave this example:
Supposing a farmer were restricted to a 100-acre base for his planting, requiring him to put 20 acres into grass as a contribution for the "soil bank."

If the farmer produced an average of 50 bushels an acre, he would then be short 1,000 bushels he otherwise would have grown.

Grain Replaces Shortages
But, if he needed those missing bushels for feeding livestock he would be allowed to buy a thousand bushels from the over-normal granary at a nominal price, say at 50 per cent of parity.

Under present regulations, 50 per cent of parity for corn would be about 90 cents a bushel.

This double-edged approach reflects objectives already outlined by Farm Bureau President Charles B. Shuman when he called for a shrinking of the agricultural plant. President Eisenhower sent the delegates warm praise for the Farm Bureau's efforts.

Members of the Kiwanis club held their annual ladies' night Christmas party last night with a good sized crowd in attendance at the Masonic temple.

A committee composed of Mrs. Eugene Morris, Mrs. Fred Wunderlich, Mrs. Ronnie Doerge and Mrs. Ralph Woodard was in charge of the Christmas decorations and the program which consisted of traveling bingo.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Dec. 20 at which time Rev. William Burroughs, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will be the speaker.

Gov. Stratton To Announce Plans on Jan. 6

Announces Seven Appointments to Personnel Board

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A "home-town party" at Morris Jan. 9 will be the scene for Gov. William G. Stratton's announcement of his 1956 political plans.

Stratton told a news conference Tuesday he will have a "definite answer" at the party on whether he will seek a second term.

He declined to say flatly he would announce his candidacy, but when asked if the announcement would be a surprise, Stratton said he didn't think so.

"I think most people expect me in high office to run for a second term at least," he added. "I wouldn't be surprised, for example, if President Eisenhower runs again, if he said, 'In fact, I hope he does.'"

Stratton said he has not yet started circulating nominating petitions, but it is known he has had them printed.

The governor announced seven of nine appointments to be made to the advisory board to the new state personnel department created by the 1955 Legislature. He said the board's first job would be to screen candidates for the job of personnel director whom he expects to name "sometime after the first of the year."

To Accept Howell Resignation

Those appointed were Republicans James M. Winning, Springfield, legal assistant to the House speaker who helped draft the personnel bills; Kenneth A. Rouse, Skokie; Ward Castle, Hinsdale; Elizabeth Hatch, Chicago; and William G. Black, Kewanee; and Democrats William W. Miller and Howard Gould, both of Chicago.

On other matters, the governor said:

He expects to accept the resignation of Evan Howell as Toll Road Commission chairman and name a successor "by the end of the month." He said he is considering several men for the post, including a politically prominent Chicago attorney, a number of other lawyers and several county high school principals.

He will call a special election to fill the vacancy created by the death last week of Champaign County Judge Eugene P. Lierman.

Dorothy McGuire, Husband File Divorce Suits

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Dorothy McGuire may be free soon to resume her celebrated romance with an old flame—Julius La Rosa.

"I don't know when I expect to see her again. We're both in show business, you know," said La Rosa when he was informed Tuesday night that Dorothy's husband had filed suit for divorce and she had filed a counter suit.

La Rosa, who is appearing here as a guest star on the Martha Raye television show, said he knew nothing of the divorce actions. They were filed in Florida.

He told reporters he hadn't seen Dorothy since "three days before last New Year's."

Miss McGuire was not immediately available for comment.

News of the pending divorce action was disclosed by her lawyer, Charles E. Booth.

He said Dorothy's husband, Sgt. John Henry Brown, filed suit for divorce in the Flagler County Circuit Court at Bunnell, Fla., on Aug. 16.

Brown went to Korea after the wedding July 30, 1951, and Miss McGuire rose to singing fame on the Arthur Godfrey television show. It was there she met La Rosa.

Godfrey fired La Rosa while his show was on the air in October, 1953. It was widely rumored that La Rosa's romance with Miss McGuire prompted Godfrey's action. But Godfrey repeatedly denied this.

He leaves no immediate family and other survivors include two nieces, Mrs. Anna Thompson, Mt. Vernon, and Mrs. Effie Martin, Pinckneyville.

Funerals will be Frank Gidcumb, Clarence Austin, Sam Martin, Carl Vance, John R. Harris and C. E. Owen.

Body of Stella Flick To Arrive Thursday
The body of Stella Flick, 71, who died at her home Tuesday morning at Flint, Mich., will arrive in Harrisburg Thursday morning via the New York Central railroad. She will be taken to the Turner funeral home where services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in the Liberty cemetery.

House GOP, Democratic Leaders Agree There Should Be No Immediate Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic and Republican leaders in the House agreed today there should be no immediate tax cut when Congress returns next month.

Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr. (Mass.) said the administration won't know until April whether the budgetary-outlook will be such that it can recommend a tax cut for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"I think it's quite doubtful we can have any substantial tax cut," Martin told newsmen. "If there is a tax cut, it would have to be a modest one."

As for the Democrats, Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.) made clear Tuesday that he is opposed "at present" to general tax reduction. "As of now," he would favor granting tax relief to low-income groups in the next session of Congress only if other taxes could be hiked simultaneously to offset the revenue loss.

Wants President to Lead

This indicated that Rayburn wants to let President Eisenhower take the lead in deciding whether there should be a tax cut in 1956—a presidential election year.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) already has called for tax relief for "small income groups."

Martin told newsmen the administration would announce its tax recommendations no later than April 15. In the meantime, Martin and Rayburn agreed that Congress probably will extend the 52 per cent tax on corporate income scheduled to drop to 47 per cent on April 1.

Rayburn's stand produced immediate opposition from Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) George reiterated his belief that income taxes can be cut three billion dollars.

Believe Slayer Of Couple Also Killed Helper

BELLEVIEW, Ill. (AP)—Authorities said today they believe Fillmore Young, confessed slayer of a Lebanon, Ill., couple, also killed his accomplice in the crime.

Young, after five days of insisting he was alone when he killed Harold Smith and his wife in their home, finally admitted he had an accomplice but refused to name him.

Chief Deputy Clifford C. Flood of St. Clair county said he believed Young, a husky, 34-year-old Negro, killed his accomplice. Officers have been seeking a second suspect in the slayings but have found no trace of the man.

Flood said his theory was based on Young's failure to explain three of eight shots he fired from the .22 caliber pistol he used in killing the Smiths. Five bullet holes were found in the Smith home along with a broken tooth that belonged to neither of the Smiths or Young.

Flood said Young, when told he must have killed the accomplice, replied laughingly, "You know I wouldn't do a thing like that."

Young, son of a respected Carlyle, Ill., poultry dealer, dumped the bodies of the Smiths in two wells 15 miles apart near Carlyle. He lifted a 600-pound wet cover alone to show officers how he disposed of Mrs. Smith's body.

Will Join in Review of West Defense Policy

First Conference By Alliance Since Molotov Action

PARIS (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived here today to join in a sweeping review of Western defense policy to meet the Soviet revival of the cold war.

Dulles' plane landed at the Evreux-Faauville American air base 65 miles west of Paris. He landed at the American base because a strike of ground personnel has paralyzed France's main air fields.

American officials at first said Dulles landed earlier but it turned out the plane was carrying Treasury Secretary George Humphrey and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

Dulles was one of the first leaders of NATO's top-level ministerial council to arrive for the meeting to study the suddenly revived cold war.

All 14 foreign ministers will have with them their defense and finance ministers or deputies for the critical session which opens here Thursday.

The meeting is the first by the Atlantic alliance nations since Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov blew away the "Geneva spirit" with a refusal to consider Western proposals for the reunification of Germany through free elections. It also marks the first time that West Germany took her full part in the defense planning of the West.

Climaxes Conferences

Outside of the conference hall, Dulles plans to meet with British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay to discuss matters of mutual concern, including the explosive situation in the Middle East.

The Atlantic council meeting climaxed a weeklong series of conferences among the Western nations, including a meeting of the Council of Europe and a session of the Western European Union.

Thursday the foreign, defense and finance ministers of the 15 member nations of NATO will begin their annual review meeting to set the defense goals for the coming year.

Informed sources said a report of the military experts will warn the NATO ministers that Russia is stronger than ever and that the West should push ahead quickly with the atomic streamlining of their defense forces—approved last year.

The Atlantic council will consider plans calling for strengthening of NATO's military setup, for creation of a Europe-wide radar warning system and for converting the alliance into a political as well as military shield.

Gov't to Release Surplus Foods to Relief Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government announced today it will give thousands of tons of surplus grains and other foods to relief agencies to feed the hungry in other lands.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, announcing the action, called it an "appropriate" step for the nation to take in this period between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Wheat, flour, corn meal, rice, dried beans, dairy products and cottonseed oil will be included.

Church leaders, who had strongly urged the "share our surplus" move, called it "the answer to our prayer."

The shipments will start moving abroad about Jan. 1.

Although the foods will be supplied free and shipped overseas by the government, relief agencies must raise funds from private contributions to handle the cost of distribution overseas.

Benson set no limit on the amount of surplus foods to be provided by the government. He said the amount shipped will depend entirely on how much money they can raise from public contributions to cover their overseas distribution expenses.

Since these expenses represent a comparatively small part of the overall cost, church leaders estimate that each dollar of private contributions will make it possible to deliver about $20 worth of food to needy families abroad.

Rising Costs to Add Billion to Defense Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The increasing cost of weapons and men will push defense spending next year above one billion dollars higher than the present level, defense officials said today.

Congressional leaders who have been briefed on the new defense budget reported that it calls for an outlay of $35,500,000,000. It is expected that defense spending for the current fiscal year will total about $34,500,000,000.

Defense officials, traditionally reluctant to discuss budget details until they are formally presented to Congress, declined to reveal the exact figures of next year's military budget. But they confirmed that spending is scheduled to rise above the 35 billion dollar mark.

Two Principal Reasons

They cited two principal reasons for the rising expenditures:

1. New technological weapons, such as guided missiles and advanced interceptors and bombers, which become more costly as they become more complex.

2. Increased wages for workers in defense plants as well as for men in uniform and civilian employees of the Defense Department. The increased labor costs are also reflected in higher material costs.

Nearly all the increase will go to the Air Force.

Congressional sources reported that Air Force spending in the coming fiscal year will total $17,200,000,000—a 700 million dollar increase over the present fiscal year. Most of the additional Air Force money will go into guided missiles and accelerated production of the new B52 intercontinental jet bomber and new supersonic fighter planes, such as the F104.

said, will spend $9,700,000,000, an increase of 200 million dollars. The Army will spend $8,600,000,000—a 100 million dollar increase.

About one billion dollars will be spent by all the services on guided missiles. The budget also will provide for expanded research and development on long-range ballistic missiles, often called the "ultimate weapon" of the future.

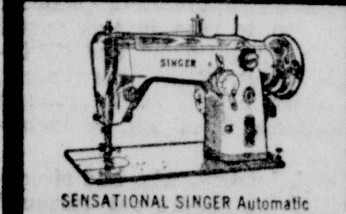

The enlarged budget, appeared likely to win congressional approval without much opposition. The complaint of Democrats last year was that the administration had cut defense spending too much.

Cross-Examine Brothers at Swindle Trial

LONDON, Ky. (AP)—Defense attorneys today cross-examined Kenneth Close, wealthy Toledo, Ohio, industrialist, who charged he and his brother were swindled out of $50,000 last July.

Five men from three states are being tried in Federal Court on charges of conspiracy and using interstate telephone lines to defraud. They include: Charles Paul Rothchild, a former Carbondale, Ill., policeman; Simpson B. Cross and Joe Buchanan, both of Jackson, Miss.; George Henson, London; and George Hutchison, Louisville, Ky.

Close and his brother, Robert Close, Bowling Green, Ohio, claimed they were told they could exchange $50,000 in $100 bills for $100,000 in larger bills if they brought the cash to Kentucky. The money, supposedly was from persons having income tax difficulties.

The brothers said they delivered the money to contacts at the London-Corbin airport, but the package they received in return contained newspaper clippings.

At the opening of the trial late Tuesday, Kenneth Close testified that he listed the serial numbers of 50 $100 bills while flying here.

He said counting the bills took "all my time from Toledo to London."

Dist. Atty. Henry J. Cook, Lexington, Ky., said the government will attempt to prove that the five defendants were involved in a scheme to sell the Close brothers $100,000 in currency at 60 cents on the dollar.

Soviet Leaders Delay Trip To Afghanistan

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP)—Bad flying weather today forced the Soviet Union's touring chieftains to postpone their friend-making state tour of this mountainous kingdom that bars the Soviet path to Pakistan.

The airport in New Delhi announced the plane carrying Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev had run into bad weather over the snow-capped Himalayas and was forced to land in southern Russia instead of Kabul.

Before leaving New Delhi Bulganin made one more blast against "rotten colonialism" and repeated earlier statements by Khrushchev that the Portuguese possession of Goa and disputed Kashmir belonged to India. Kashmir also is claimed by Pakistan.

The Soviet leaders and India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru reaffirmed their faith in peaceful co-existence and announced a new Asian trade-not-aid program of Soviet assistance to India Tuesday.

Bulganin also said that because of "present conditions" Russia will continue to produce atomic and hydrogen weapons.

"There's no choice under present conditions," he said. He said that until agreement is reached with the West on banning atomic and thermonuclear devices "the Soviet Union is compelled and will in the future take care of strengthening her defense capacity and produce atomic and hydrogen weapons."

Rep. Powell Says Democrats Can Win Against Ike

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—State Rep. Paul Powell Tuesday night told a Democratic rally the party can win in 1956 even if President Eisenhower runs again.

Powell, Vienna Democrat and former speaker of the House, said he hoped President Eisenhower makes a "speedy and complete recovery" and "I'm one Democrat who hopes he runs for re-election."

"He'll be running on his record as a partisan Republican president and not on his record as a general as he did in 1952," Powell said. "I don't believe there is a Democrat living who would dare run on the record the Republicans have made," he said. "They'd shoot him."

Powell accused the Republicans of reneging on campaign promises to balance the budget and of "fumbling" the farm problem. "The sliding scale of parity is sliding the farm economy into bankruptcy," he said.

Mail Early for Christmas, Postmaster Urges

Postmaster A. M. Hetherington said today that the annual flood of outgoing Christmas cards and gifts is reaching its peak and coupled with the tons of incoming Christmas mail it looks like this Christmas season will break all records.

You can help ease the pressure by visiting the post office before 10 a. m. or between 1:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. to mail your Christmas packages or take them to the Cummins building where mail is being dispatched.

For distant points use air parcel post and be sure to put first class postage on all of your Christmas cards. Use sturdy cartons, heavy wrapping paper and plenty of strong cord to insure safe arrival of your gift packages. Address all packages and cards accurately and clearly including postal zone numbers when possible. Be sure that stamps are firmly attached.

Service windows at the post office will be open from 7:30 a. m. until 6 p. m. including Saturdays. Let's all "Mail early for Christmas" to make it a merrier Christmas.

Warriors Edge Celtics, 109-108

By United Press

Larry Hennessey's last-minute basket kept the Philadelphia Warriors rocketing along today at the head of the National Basketball Association, but the Pacemakers were troubled by the injury of high-scoring Paul Arizin, who twisted his back in the second half.

Hennessey's only shot of the game, a set shot from side court with 20 seconds remaining, proved the winning margin in the Warriors' 109-108 victory over the Boston Celtics at New York Tuesday night.

In the other half of the twin bill, New York defeated Minneapolis, 98-91, handing the Lakers their sixth straight loss. Bob Peterson led New York with 19 points, but Clyde Lovellette of the Lakers took game honors with 31.

Worst Blizzard of Season Sweeps Into Northern U. S.

By United Press

A killer blizzard raked three Canadian provinces today and swept the northern United States with wind-driven snow.

The Canadian blizzard was the worst of the season and had killed at least one person. Six oil field workers were reported stranded without food in an isolated camp. Scores of other persons were forced to take refuge, and business came almost to a standstill.

The provinces of Saskatchewan, Alberta, and Manitoba all felt the blizzard's wrath. In Alberta, a school driver was stranded in his bus for 12 hours just after he had driven 40 children to their homes. Elsewhere, motorists were stranded, schools were closed, and chest-high drifts blocked the highways.

The blinding snow-storm was not as severe in this country, but it still whirled to near-blizzard proportions in North Dakota.

Wet Snow Hits Central Illinois

SPRINGFIELD — A wet snow turned roads slick across central Illinois today, and state police said the slippery highways were responsible for two minor automobile accidents.

The Weather Bureau said the snow was falling in a narrow east-west band from central Missouri, east to Decatur. The band appeared to be about 75-100 miles wide, the Weather Bureau said, and the snow should accumulate to a depth of 1 to 2 inches.

The Weather Bureau said the snow would spread eastward into central Indiana and should end by late afternoon.

Question Three New Suspects in Murder of Coed

OMAHA — Detectives today questioned three new suspects in the murder of pretty Carolyn Marie Nevins, 20-year-old Omaha university coed.

Police said the three young men could give no details of their whereabouts last Friday night when the attractive honor student was shot four times and left on the university campus.

Police revealed also they were questioning university faculty members and said they might give several faculty members lie detector tests "to piece together new information."

Dr. Milo Bail, president of the university, urged all faculty members to cooperate with the police and offered to undergo a lie test himself.

Detectives, who have been on an extra-hours schedule since the killing was discovered early Saturday, said the three suspects held for questioning told them they were driving around the Elmwood Park area bordering the campus Friday night.

Lausche Announces '56 Candidacy

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Gov. Frank J. Lausche today announced he would be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

The five-term governor announced he would seek Ohio's 56 delegates to next year's Democratic national convention. He would not say if he would permit his name to be entered in contests for delegates in other states.

Lausche, who often has expressed publicly his admiration for President Eisenhower, thus became the second person to announce for the country's highest office. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic standardbearer in 1952, had announced he would seek the nomination again.

Lausche, 60, a Catholic, had been expected to announce he would be Ohio's "favorite son" candidate. His announcement came the day before Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) was expected to announce he would be a candidate and seek delegates from Ohio.

British Outlaw Communist Party on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Britain today outlawed the Communist Party on this strategic island in the Mediterranean and arrested 130 of its members, including the Red mayors of two major cities.

Also seized was the Communist "strongman," Party Secretary Ezekias Papaioannu.

It was the first time the British indicated openly that the Communists were fomenting unrest on Cyprus, scene of increased disorders by pro-Greek islanders. Cyprus is headquarters for Britain's Middle East Command and a vital link in the NATO defenses.

Gov. Field Marshal Sir John Harding sent British troops and security police in a series of sudden and unexpected raids on Communist and leftwing headquarters across the island throughout the night.

The mayors of Larnaca and Limassol, where anti-British terrorism has been the most violent, were among those arrested. Also seized were leaders of the Communist youth organizations because students have been active in recent riots.

By United Press

Score Named American League Rookie of Year

NEW YORK — Herb Score, who set an all-time strikeout record on his first season with the Cleveland Indians, was named American League "Rookie of the Year" today by the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

The 22-year-old flame-throwing southpaw from Rosedale, N. Y., won the eighth annual award by receiving 18 of the 24 votes cast by the writers' special committee. Shortstop Billy Klaus of the Boston Red Sox received five votes and teammate Norm Zaichin one.

Score, one of the most highly-touted rookies of all time, lived up to his advance notices with a spectacular campaign during which he struck out 245 batters in 227 innings and compiled a 16-10 won-and-lost record. His strikeout total surpassed the previous major league mark of 227 strikeouts in a rookie season set by Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1911.

Discovered by Cy Slapnicka, the same man who found Bob Feller, Score turned in one of the most brilliant performances of the 1955 season when he struck out 16 batters in pitching the Indians to a 2-1 triumph over the Boston Red Sox on May 1.

Score also pitched a one-hitter against the Baltimore Orioles on July 30, hurled a two-hitter and three three-hitters.

Signed by the Indians to a $60,000 bonus contract on June 14, 1952, Score had a 2-5 record with Indianapolis of the American Assn. that season and compiled a 7-3 mark for Reading of the Eastern League in 1953. In 1954, however, he came into his own with Indianapolis in the A. A., striking out a record 330 batters, winning 22 games while losing only five and posting a 2.62 earned run average.

That performance rocketed Score into the national limelight and he went to the Indians' Tucson, Ariz., training site last spring as one of the most publicized rookies in the game's history.

Illinois Beats Notre Dame, 103-93, As SIU Loses to Spartans, 99-71

By United Press
Illinois' record-breaking triumph over Notre Dame headlined a string of state basketball wins Tuesday night.

The Illini broke through a half-time deadlock and went on to win, 103-93, and run up the greatest number of points ever scored on an Irish cage team.

Illinois jumped from the 46-point mid-point tie and shattered the record 93 points inflicted on the Irish last season by Holy Cross.

Harvey Schmidt led the Illini eagles with his 24 points, while John Smyth paced Notre Dame's attack with 22. The game left Illinois with two victories in three games and the Irish with a 2-3 record.

Unbeaten Bradley, playing on its home floor, toppled Canisius, 73-56, to mark the fourth triumph for the Peoria collegians.

The Braves at first found their attack hampered by the Easterners' zone defense. But Bradley's Jerry Hansen scored with nine minutes left, enabling the Braves

Ninth Annual Equality Invitational Cage Tourney Will Begin Dec. 19

Eight Teams are Entered; Shawneetown Is Defending Champ

The ninth annual Equality Invitational basketball tournament is scheduled to get underway Monday, Dec. 19, starting about 7 p. m.

Shawneetown is defending champion, having taken the tournament title in 1954.

There are eight teams entered—Ridgway, Enfield, Shawneetown, Thompsonville, Equality, Goreville, Joppa and Crab Orchard — and Equality Coach "Kay" Willis, who has seen the teams in action during the season, states the first round of play should provide some close, interesting games. "For the first two nights these eight teams couldn't have been matched any better," says Willis.

The first Equality invitational tournament was held in 1946, with Galatia beating Ridgway in the final for the championship. In 1947 Carrier Mills carried home the

Barclay Fired As Grid Coach at North Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. — The University of North Carolina started looking for a new football coach today to replace the fired George Barclay, and persistent reports said the job may be offered to Maryland's highly-successful Jim Tatum.

Barclay, Tar Heel mentor for three losing seasons, was informed Tuesday night that his contract will not be renewed when it expires Jan. 1. The action had been long-expected, but Barclay refused any comment.

Tatum, a North Carolina alum who has guided Maryland to the gridiron heights, has often been reported to be a possible successor to Barclay. Although he is reported exceeding Barclay's $11,000 salary, some sources have described Tatum as anxious to return here.

The firing of Barclay was announced Tuesday night by University Chancellor Robert B. House and Athletic Director C. P. Erickson.

first place trophy. Galatia became a two-time champion by taking the 1948 title, then Carrier Mills came back to win the championship in 1949.

Top Notch Players
In 1950 Crab Orchard was the champion. Thompsonville became the only school in the history of the meet to win two consecutive years, taking the title in 1951 and successfully defending in 1952.

Royalton was the 1953 winner and last year Shawneetown finished in first place.

Host Equality has never won a championship, but finished second three years in a row—1950, 1951 and 1952.

Some of the top notch performers from the smaller enrollment schools in this section will play in the Equality tournament. Nolan and Gunzel pace the unbeaten Shawneetown Indians; Mills of Ridgway is a fine guard and outside shooter; Ronnie Milligan, Equality's tallest player at a mere 6-0, has been a high scorer all season; King and Mathias, a pair of veterans, lead Joppa; Crab Orchard has Merrill, a 6-4 center, who has been hard to stop, and on down the line, every club has its fine performers.

The officials for the tournament will be James McCoskey and Ford Peebles of Murphysboro.

Admission for all sessions has been announced as 60 cents and 40 cents.

Miss Leta Jane Small, Ray W. Reinhardt
Married Sunday in Yuletide Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Reinhardt

Miss Leta Jane Small and Ray W. Reinhardt were married at the First Christian church in Harrisburg Sunday afternoon.

In keeping with the season, Yuletide decorations formed the background as the couple stood before the Rev. Glen W. Daugherty, pastor of the church, to affirm their marriage vows.

Miss Shirley Ann Gaskins, the maid of honor, and Robert Reinhardt, best man, a brother of the bridegroom, stood with them on the chancel in the ceremony which was enhanced by its simplicity.

The chancel was decorated with a grouping of red poinsettias and silvered Christmas trees with a background of greenery, all lighted by burning tapers. Similar decorations marked the reception which followed at the home of Mrs. Roy L. Seright at 127 South Main street.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Curtis G. Small, wore a white waltz length gown of Chantilly lace with a scalloped neckline and pleated flounce of nylon net. Her veil of white illusion was held in place by a cap of lace adorned with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white phlox and stephanotis.

Miss Gaskins wore a ballerina length gown of red velvet with full skirt and a small headpiece of matching red velvet and net. She carried a bouquet of white poinsettias.

Lighting the candles prior to the ceremony were the bride's brother, Roy Curtis Small, of Cadillac, Mich., and her cousin, John T. Gaskins III, of Harrisburg. Just before the ceremony began Bill Williams sang "Thine Alone" and "Through the Years" accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Thompson, organist. The soloist also sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Serving as ushers were the bride's older brother, John Richard Small, and Richard Miley and Jerry Hensley, close friends of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a blue sheer wool dress with pink hat and gloves, and her corsage was a pink orchid.

Mrs. R. S. Reinhardt, the bridegroom's mother, wore a black suit of wool trimmed with satin and a blue satin hat. Her corsage was a white orchid. She was accompanied by Mr. Reinhardt from their home in Lincoln, North Carolina.

At the reception, Misses Linda Rude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Rude, and Joan Seright, daughter of Mrs. Morris E. Seright, presided at the punch bowls at each end of the table which was covered with a banquet cloth of beautiful Italian cutwork. White tapers in two crystal candelabra and the wedding cake completed the arrangements.

Assisting Mrs. Seright at the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Malan, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Lee, Mrs. Harry Horning, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bishop Hill, Mrs. Edward L. Heister, Mrs. Morris E. Seright, Mrs. Herman Lambert and Arthur H. Marlin.

Miss Susan Jo Hamby, cousin of the bride, registered the guests. Following the reception the couple departed for a short wedding trip, with Kentucky Lake State Park as their first destination. They will be at home at 3 West Park street in Harrisburg about December 19.

Out of town guests at the wedding included: Mrs. Nolan Craver Jr., Homer, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. John Loftus III, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hamby, Princeton, Ky.; Mrs. Ben Small, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Small, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thurmond, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parks and daughters, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams and Sallie Jo Cannon, all of Marion, Ill.; Mrs. Joe Wisheart, Shawneetown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feirich, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Neal and Mr. and Mrs. James G. Whalen, all of Metropolis;

Valow, Kinmundy, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Bridges, Vienna, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hale, Grand Chain, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fenaia, Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee, Pinckneyville, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Mr. and Mrs. Casey Dempsey and daughters, Margaret and Alice, Carlyle, Frederick Heaton and daughter, Susan, New Burnside, and Mrs. H. C. Holdaway and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hill, Eldorado.

The bride is a native of Harrisburg, a graduate of Harrisburg Township high school and the University of Illinois, where she was affiliated with Delta Delta Delta social sorority. She taught two years in the elementary school system at Park Forest, Ill., following her graduation, and taught last year in the elementary schools in Long Beach, Calif.

The bridegroom, a native of Lincoln, North Carolina, attended Lincoln high school, Darlington school at Rome, Georgia, Davidson college at Davidson, North Carolina, and Presbyterian College, Clinton, South Carolina. His formal education was interrupted for four years' service in the Navy during World War II, in the Pacific area.

Methodists Plan Family Night Tuesday, Dec. 20

Men's Organization Seeks to Restore True Meaning of Christmas

The first Christmas in their new church will be a joyous one for the Harrisburg Methodists, as the Methodist Men's organization has planned a big Christmas Family Night for Tuesday, Dec. 20, at 7 o'clock.

Methodist Men President, Don Williams, has announced that everyone in the community is invited, and this will be a fine opportunity for many people who have not seen the interior of the new church to look over the beautiful building.

"The men of our church feel that we should try to restore the true meaning of Christmas, as we have all over-emphasized the giving of gifts to each other, leaving out the religious side of Christmas," Williams remarked.

The Christmas celebration will start with music and worship in the sanctuary, this part of the program presented entirely by the Methodist Men. A choir of 30 men will sing Christmas hymns, as will the Methodist Men quartet. Bill Williams will sing the beautiful Christmas song, "The Holy City." Three laymen will give brief talks as to the meaning of Christmas.

The Lord's Supper will be administered by Rev. W. L. Cummings after the men's program, and all persons of the community are welcomed to unite with the church members in this sacrament.

The opportunity to present Christmas gifts to Jesus Christ will be extended during the Communion service. Persons who are not members of the church can consider this a matter of their own choice.

"We are looking for a large turnout, as we urge people of all faiths to attend this service, hoping to make this Christmas a truly Christian celebration," Williams stated.

Following the worship service a fellowship hour will be held in Wesley Center, with refreshments and Yuletide entertainment for everyone.

Drive to Secure Federal Prison in Taylorville Area

TAYLORVILLE, Ill. — Leaders of a drive to locate the mid-west Alcatraz-type prison in this vicinity today announced efforts of U. S. Rep. Peter F. Mack (D-Carlinville) toward that objective.

They received copies of messages sent by Mack to James Bennett, director of the U. S. Bureau of Prisons, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell and other federal officials.

Mack urged Bennett and the others to consider favorably this location for the nine-million-dollar maximum security prison. He said the area is ideally suited for operation and maintenance of the prison and the community has raised $150,000 for purchase of a site.

Location of the prison here would mean an annual expenditure of 1½ million dollars in its operation.

The money for the prison site was raised from 213 contributors after a poll showed the community favored the project.

Meanwhile, the Springfield Association of Commerce and Industry discussed the location of the prison near that city. Mayor Nelson O. Howarth has opposed the location on grounds it would change the reputation of Springfield, now known as a Lincoln shrine city. A postcard poll being taken by the association, however, showed 203 votes to 164 in favor of the prison.

Prominent Officials to Attend Area 'Sink or Swim' Meeting

Congressman Kenneth J. Gray (D) of West Frankfort today said he was "gratified" at the response he is receiving to his call for a mass meeting to be held on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 31, at 2 p. m. at the West Frankfort high school gymnasium.

The meeting, termed a "non-political" fact finding forum has been called to acquaint the State and Federal officials in the Legislative and Executive branches of the government concerning the "true economic conditions" now existing in southern Illinois, Gray said.

Each community will have an opportunity to "spell out" their wants and needs at this forum, the Congressman pointed out.

Gray said he had received definite commitments from the following officials that they would be present at the meeting:

U. S. Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, chairman Joint Committee on the Economic Report.

U. S. Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, chairman of the Low Income Families Sub-Committee of the U. S. Senate.

Wendell B. Barnes, Administrator of Small Business, Washington, D. C.

Official representative of Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture.

Representatives of the U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force and the Department of Defense.

Harry P. Raymond, regional manager, Inter-State Commerce Commission of the United States.

L. D. Norman, regional director, Illinois Department of Public Welfare.

Russell Kelly, Department of Labor, State of Illinois.

Stillman J. Stanard, director, Illinois Department of Agriculture.

Garrett Keaster, executive secretary, Illinois Public Aid Commission, Chicago, Illinois.

Representative of the Division of Unemployment Compensation, State of Illinois.

Gray said he received a communication from Bryce N. Harlow, administrative assistant to President Eisenhower and the invitation was being "carefully considered" and that he would be advised further at an early date.

Gray said if only the people who have called or written him seeking employment come to the meeting there will be a "full house."

The Congressman said we are "at the crossroads" and have the choice of letting our economy slip further or "rallying behind a move to force State and National attention on our economic plight."

He said that President Eisenhower had indicated that some type of distressed areas program would be set up and should this be the case, Gray said southern Illinois would be first in line for assistance. Every Chamber of Commerce, Community Development committee, Southern Illinois Incorporated, Mayors association, and all other groups who are working to bring industry into southern Illinois will be aided materially by the outcome of this meeting, if it is a success, Gray said. He said the success will depend upon the cooperation and attendance of every man, woman and child in southern Illinois who are interested in a brighter future for this region.

Getting Too Big for His Father's Britches

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON SAYS: Ike's Latest Medical Report Further Complicates Political Picture; Old Taft Wing of GOP Gets More and More Restless Over Failure To Warm Up For 1956; Sale Of Rogue River National Forest Develops Headaches For McKay.

WASHINGTON — Latest medical report on the President's health has deepened the conviction among the old Taft wing of the Republican party, now led by Senator Knowland, that it would be extremely difficult to run Eisenhower at the age of 66 again. It has also deepened their suspicion that Deweyites around the White House are stalling for time, not necessarily to run Ike again but to groom their own candidate.

The blunt inescapable facts, when drilled down to bedrock, are that the load of the presidency is a crushing one even under the best of conditions; second, that Ike himself showed every sign of not wanting to run again before his heart attack; third, that he has actually done little since the attack, compared with what he would have to do if he ran for president again.

Under these circumstances, grumble GOP leaders of the Knowland-Taft camp, why should the party not proceed to warm up a few pitchers on the side-lines instead of waiting until the last minute to put a cold rookie in the Republican box.

Newsman who have covered the President both at Denver and Gettysburg know that he has been subjected to very little strain. And he shouldn't have been. At Denver he was positively bored with inactivity. It now develops that he was informed on few problems.

And that cabinet members who went to see him did not even discuss such matters as the walk-out of the French from the United Nations or the basic problems of the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference.

While there have been two cabinet and security council meetings since the President came east, the schedule aside from this had been light to the point that one old friend who was a house guest at Gettysburg found Ike restless and a bit irritable.

All this is natural. In fact it's necessary and inevitable. It's also natural that a man who suffers an "acute" heart attack at the age of 65 must go through a long period of convalescence, and that Dr. Snyder when he reported "fatigue" obviously was telling the truth.

The people who may not have been telling the truth, however, suggest some of the Knowland leaders, are those who have been making it appear that Ike is hunting, fooling around with tractors, driving ponies and has almost resumed the active routine of the terrific job of being President of the United States.

It's this Madison Avenue "all-is-normal" propaganda by the palace guard that really irks GOP old-guarders, plus the fact that Chairman Len Hall had a much more important conference with Tom Dewey as to whether Ike was going to run again than he did with Ike himself.

The job of being President of the United States can't be done with the left hand, points out one resolute wing of the GOP, and those Republicans who criticized the Democrats for letting the nation drift downhill during the illness of Franklin D. Roosevelt should be the first to recognize it.

DISAPPEARING ORE

Democratic leaders intend to demand the resignation of Douglas McKay as secretary of the interior when Congress reconvenes.

They will base this on a give-away of 300 acres of Douglas fir and sugar pine in the Rogue River National Forest in Oregon which McKay's colleague, Secretary of Agriculture Benson, did not want to dispose of.

They will also base it on the fact that the ore samples which were the basis of McKay's sale were dumped into the Rogue river.

Oscar Chapman, when secretary of the interior, had refused to sell this same Rogue River acreage, called Al Serena and belonging to the McDonald family of Mobile, Alabama. The U. S. Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management also consistently and vigorously recommended against the sale—under both Democrats and Republicans.

But McKay reversed them on the basis of an old mining law which gives timber rights to any one owning material rights — provided those mineral rights are valuable enough for development. Earlier assays of gold found on the Al Serena mining claim were without real value. But when McKay's solicitor, Clarence Davis, consented to ship ore samples all the way to the home town of the McDonalds, Mobile, the assay showed significant gold and silver.

DUMPED INTO RIVER

Then mysteriously the ore samples disappeared. Here, according to sworn testimony before a congressional committee, is what happened:

"Sometimes afterwards, Mr. McCormick came to (see me)," testified R. N. Appling of the interior department, referring to the McDonalds' engineer, D. Ford McCormick. "We picked up the samples from the state department of geology office and destroyed them."

"How were they destroyed?" asked committee counsel Robert W. Redwine.

"They were shaken from the envelopes and dumped into the river," replied Appling.

"Did you have to go very far to dump these things in the river?" asked Rep. Chudoff, Democrat of Pennsylvania.

"About two blocks," replied Appling.

"Could you not have thrown them in the waste basket?" Chudoff persisted.

"I suppose we could," said Appling.

"It was very unusual to throw things like that in the river, was it?" demanded Chudoff.

"That is right," mumbled Appling.

"That is all," said Chudoff.

More than one-fifth of the 1.2 million bushels of wheat in storage in the United States April 1, 1955, was stored in Kansas.

Personnel Gets Biggest Part Of Army Dollar

By WILLIAM WARTOFKY
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The individual American GI may not believe this, but, the biggest slice of the Army dollar goes to him.

The Army is going to spend $3,675,000,000, or about 39 per cent of its budget, on the men and women in uniform. This sum includes pay, food, clothing and fare for those changing stations.

The major item of this portion of the budget is pay and allowances, which is tabbed at $3,117,000,000. This will comprise the paycheck of the average private who makes $93 a month to the general who draws about $930.

The Army's budget for the current fiscal year is $9,404,000,000. Another 30 per cent of this will go for maintenance and operation costs.

Research Funds
Generally, this section includes funds for command and management, intelligence, training, logistic and administrative services and supplies which make up an effective fighting force.

The buying and testing of new equipment, arms and ammunition will cost $1,500,000,000. Manufacture and modification of these items for both the Army and Reserve is added on this expense.

Research and development will be in the neighborhood of $374,000,000.

These Christmas Gifts Head for North Pole

OKLAHOMA CITY — Most youngsters look for their Christmas gifts to come from the North Pole, but 120 Camp Fire Girls are reversing the matter.

The girls, following an idea of Mrs. Calvin Jones, are sending Christmas packages to Eskimo children in a school at Teller Mission, Alaska.

Mrs. Jones learned of children's needs through her sister, Mrs. Karl Besheller, who is in charge of education at Teller Mission. When Mrs. Jones left here to teach in France, the girls decided to complete the project.

The Army participates in Department of Defense joint activities such as Armed Forces Special Weapons project. Some of this money will be used for development of the highly effective guided missile.

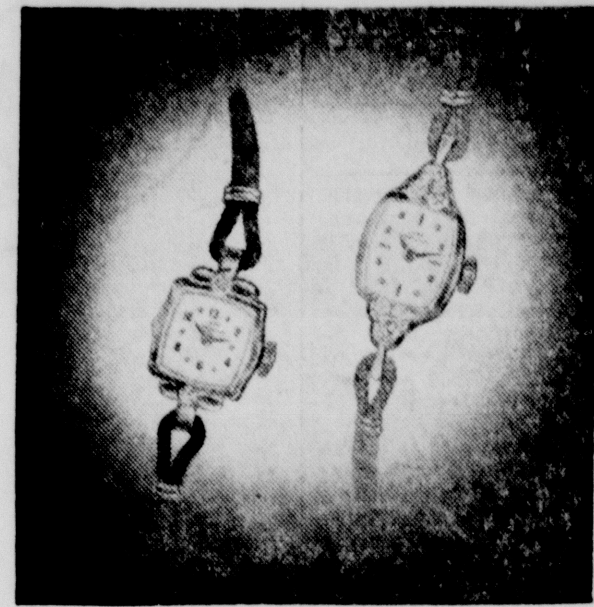

Training Costs
Training and expenditures of Reserve Officer Candidates (ROTC) in colleges and universities will require $132,000,000. Also added to this bill are the other reserve programs, excluding the National Reserve plan.

The operation of another arm of the Army—the National Guard—will total about $288,000,000. The "home guard's" anti-aircraft defense is also covered under this part.

Military construction, communication and other miscellaneous expenses complete the remainder of the budget.

The Army also is looking out for potential soldier sharpshooters. They're giving a small sum for the advancement of weapon training under the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice.

HTHS Industrial Arts Program Provides Specialized Training, Shop Work

The HTHS industrial arts program is being extended and re-organized on a general shop basis.

Freshmen register for exploratory courses which are divided into nine-week units of metal, wood, and auto shops, and drafting. During this period the instructor determines the student's interests and abilities and selects a field for further study to be undertaken during the senior year.

Formerly the program was organized into separate courses, some of which are still offered to upper-classmen for completion of programs already started.

Sophomores who have had the general shop course may enroll in Wood Shop I, Metal Shop I, or Auto Shop I. Wood Shop I includes bench work, gluing and clamping, wood-turning, finishing, and the use of common wood-working machines and hand tools. Safety and care are emphasized. Each student chooses his own projects. There is a $1 shop fee to cover materials and breakage.

The metal shop courses combine theory and practice in the elementary principles of sheet metal work, electricity, concrete work, soldering, brazing, welding and forging.

In cooperation with the high school art department, shop students construct school signs and make Christmas decorations. They overhaul and refinish school furniture, make hand tools, and design furniture, serving trays, and household accessories.

The Industrial Arts department offers two mechanical drawing courses. Students learn to read, draw, make and letter blue prints. Graduates have found the courses to be an excellent preparation for study in engineering colleges.

Auto Shop I offers practical laboratory experience as well as classroom theory on the operation of engines. Auto Shop II is largely composed of practical experience. Each student completes two trouble-diagnosis projects each week. Students graduate from this class with a thorough understanding of the various phases of automotive operation.

J. Gordon Parkhurst, head of the Industrial Arts Department, is a 1938 graduate of SIU. After graduating from college, Mr. Parkhurst spent four years in the armed services during World War II. He returned to SIU upon being discharged and in 1950 received his Master of Arts degree. A native of West Frankfort, Mr. Parkhurst came to HTHS in 1950 and has been head of the Industrial Arts Department since then.

William Harris teaches four courses of auto mechanics and one of general shop. He graduated from the Vocational Technical Institute at SIU in June, 1955, and came directly to HTHS. Mr. Harris is from Wolf Lake in Union county. He served in the army during World War II.

Agriculture may be taken all four years and counts as a major or minor towards graduation. Five courses are offered. General agriculture is an introductory course offered to both boys and girls and includes a non-technical study of all phases of agriculture.

Agriculture I is a study of farm animals and each student is required to keep careful records on a home project with purebred livestock.

A crop or livestock project is also required for Agriculture II.

This course includes a study of crops, pastures, fertilizers, soils, and farm layouts.

Agriculture III combines the study of dairying, rope work, soldering, welding, and concrete work. It is offered in alternate years with Agriculture IV. The latter is a study of good farm management and requires the completion of two or more farm shop projects.

Edwin J. Thompson is head of the HTHS Agriculture Department. He obtained a BA degree from SIU after graduating from high school in Hillsboro. Work on his BS and MA were done at the University of Illinois and he has done advanced study at the University of Indiana. Mr. Thompson first came to HTHS in 1937 for five months. He returned in 1942 and has remained since.

Members of the vocational education staff agree on the purposes of their courses: To help prepare students for specialized study on a higher level, and to lay the foundations for immediately earning a living.

True Story About Social Security

The other day a 68-year-old man called at the Harrisburg social security district office. Just want to check up on my old-age insurance account," he said.

"Are you working?" the receptionist inquired.

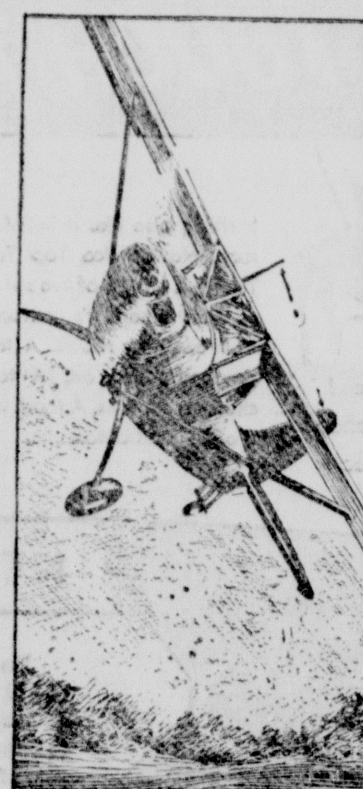

"Yes, and I know I can't draw my old-age benefits," he replied, "because I intend to go right on working. Thought it might be a good idea, though, to see that everything's OK in my account. Never can tell when I might have to quit. Can't do as much as I used to, but I have an easy job. Make $150 a month."

"Let's see, that's $1800 a year," the receptionist said, as she pulled out a little leaflet. "If your total annual earnings are between $1,760.01 and $1,840, you can receive 4 months' benefits for this year and for every year as long as you continue working at that rate. And when you reach age 72, you can receive your benefits regardless of your earnings. Don't you want to talk to one of our claims people and file your application?"

The caller filed his claim. As he left, he paused for a moment at the receptionist's desk. "Sure am glad I stopped in to check up on my old-age insurance account!" he said with a grin.

The moral of this true story, according to E. Bishop Hill, district manager of the Social Security Administration office at Harrisburg, is that some people over 65 who are still working in employment covered by social security may be entitled to some social security payments even though they continue working. These workers should get in touch with the Harrisburg Social Security office at once, Mr. Hill added.

ARMY AVIATION

Entirely distinct from the Air Force of the National Military Establishment is the United States Army's aircraft career field. This field chiefly involves light airplanes and helicopters, serving varied purposes. More prestige and status than ever go now to the enlisted specialists maintaining the Army's light fixed-wing aircraft and helicopters. This field offers an interesting career with ample opportunities for advancement. Although designed to meet specialized needs of the United States Army, the jobs in this field are easily convertible to comparable activities in civilian industry.

YOU ARE ENTITLED TO BUY YOUR INSURANCE FROM THE AGENT OF YOUR CHOICE

If it is necessary for you to buy insurance or renew a policy required to cover a loan on your property you have the right, without prejudicing your loan, to select the insurance agent of your choice.

The Federal Department of Justice feels that any lending institution that denies you this right is in violation of the anti-trust laws. In 1951 the Federal Government brought civil action against a lending institution, charging it with unreasonable restrictions and monopolization of interstate commerce with regard to the writing, placing and selling of hazard insurance to be maintained under the provisions of mortgages, on mortgaged property.

This action was terminated on June 30, 1954, in the Federal Court in Minneapolis, Minnesota by a consent decree which forced the lending institutions to terminate the practice of restricting borrowers in the purchase of insurance.

Assistant Attorney General Stanley N. Barnes, in charge of the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice, in commenting on the judgment, said:

"The restrictive and monopolistic practices of the defendant loan companies have adversely affected the home owners' chance of obtaining the hazard insurance of their own choice in a free and open market. The Antitrust Division will continue to move against all illegal restraints which enhance the costs of individual home ownership and maintenance."

THE STORY: Capt. Jered Naish, a merchant seaman, who has been made master of a whaler, finds his motley crew and brutal officers far different than the men he commanded on previous voyages. He is aware that his first mate, Eleazar Cupp, dislikes his policy of treating the crew with respect.

think. But best off in the galley. He ain't of the stripe for the rough and tumble topside.

Alfred had put down the biscuit plate; he poured tea neatly into a thick mug. "Sugar, sir," he said, "or molasses?"

"As she goes," Naish said. "Are you a Londoner, too, Alfred?" "So help me, no," Alfred said. "Back of Beacon Hill, that's me. They bring me out from London when I was four, that's why I still talk a bit like him."

"Get along with you!" Blageen said. "In here, you answers to an order and that's all. No jibber-jabber."

He took a stride toward Alfred, his foot swung back for a kick, and the boy disappeared. "Smart little devil, ain't he, sir?"

A young boy about 10 brought the tea and the biscuits from the pantry. He was barefoot and he wore a white jacket much too big for him.

"Who's this?" Naish asked Blageen.

"Alfred, me widowed sister's nipper," the steward said. "Signed on for deck boy, so he'd 'ave you

"I'd reckon just about so," Naish said without inflection. "Clear the table now. I want to use my charts."

Mr. Cupp sat in meditative silence in the cabin after breakfast and picked his teeth with the point of his sheath knife as Naish first worked out his star and lunar observations. "What's your method for such as this, mister?" Naish suddenly asked.

"I'm a dead reckon man, fore an' aft," Mr. Cupp said.

"But you, I understand," Naish said low-voiced, "lost the last vessel you commanded."

Mr. Cupp slid the knife into its belt sheath; his saturnine, pale blue eyes studied Naish. "Let's you and me," he said, "get squared away."

"I'm ready," Naish said.

"I start out, I was master and part owner o' the bark Augustus. You've heard o' her."

"I have. She was a Salem ship."

"Well, then, no need my tellin' you all what happened."

"You tell me, mister."

"Lost the Augustus," Mr. Cupp

said, "well up to the North'd. Off East P'int on Igloolik Island. We was after whale and had a fair amount of lie aboard. But the ice come down and pinched us. Broke our back. No chance to use the boats, no way to get to the island. So we stayed on the ice. Quite a few fellers froze and died. Rest o' us lived, 10 all counted. When we got hungry along towards the end—" Mr. Cupp's murmurous voice rose a note—"We et the dead. None of this here cannibalism like you might ha' heard down to Salem. We just clipped 'em off as was needed and put the pieces in the stew pot. Worst trouble was gettin' firewood; had to go back to the ship for it. Come spring, we met up with Eskimoes and they bring us out."

The story of the Augustus was n't new in many ways; other whalers and sealers, fishermen, crews trying to find the Northwest Passage had been trapped in the Arctic wastes and forced to practice what shore-going folks called with horror cannibalism. "Let me hear about this ship and how you think she should be handled in the trade."

"Well, we run her to the South'd like you have her headed now," Mr. Cupp said. "Chance we might find us some few pods down off the Western Islands."

"The Azores, you mean?" "Azores or Cape Verdes, aye. But the real whalin' grounds these here last years ha' all been off on the other side. One 'long-shore on the Chile coast. Another, what they name the off-shore, between five degrees and 10 South and 100 to 125 West. Next is the 'country grounds,' the Pacific islands, runnin' anywhere out South an' West o' the Sandwiches. Then they's the Indian Ocean after a man's worked off o' Japan. Mebbe the best is the Nor'west Coast on up into the Bering Sea. That one I wouldn't hanker for much."

Jered Naish stretched back in his chair, seeing in his mind the enormous spaces of which Mr. Cupp had spoken so casually. They took up practically half the globe. "So we'll proceed towards the Azores," he said, "and try our luck, then crack on South for Good Hope."

"You could or you couldn't." "Mister," Jered Naish said in a voice that was slow and low, "I'm not a man for brutality aboard ship. But I'm a hawse pipe sailor and when I was in the focsle I took my lumps along with the rest. Since I've sailed master, I've kept my crews going by good will, good sense and decent food and wages. Not that I haven't been forced to deal out a little hot scouse once and again and have my mates knock a drunkard or a sojour on his back."

Mr. Cupp grinned, his tobacco-rimmed mouth pulled wide. "Well, let me tell you that ain't true aboard o' any whaler. It's rougher, tougher by a plenty, and when you see us layin' in alongside o' a whale you'll understand for'd should be up on deck with a little belayin' pin music on their skulls to get them to step lively. Learn 'em quick, learn 'em thorough, else you'll lose boats and men."

Prince Charles, Princess Anne Visit with Santa

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles, 7, and Princess Anne, 5, are firm believers in Santa Claus, a be-whiskered member of the Santa Claus family reported today.

The prince and princess visited Santa at London department store Monday and whispered their requests in his ear. He refused to say what they wanted.

"It's a secret between us after all," he said, "but I can tell you it was something pretty ordinary. And the main thing is, they still believe."

The Santa Claus who refused to give his name is a 6-foot 2-inch employee who spends 1 month as Santa and 11 months as a door keeper.

Anne appeared more fascinated with Santa than Charles and could not keep her eyes off him. Charles whispered his request and then dashed off to look at an electric train without waiting for his sister.

Christmas shoppers bustled through the toy department unaware of the identity of the two children, who were accompanied by ladies in waiting. Charles and Anne conferred solemnly over one present and finally decided on a clockwork penguin for 6 shillings (84 cents).

Eventually Charles took out his purse and bought that and a clay modelling set for his sister. He popped both into a green and white shopping bag he was carrying and carefully counted his change.
